

Clémence Bussière
Born on August 10, 1987
Charenton-le-Pont (France)

Professional address:
MGEN Foundation for Public Health
3, square Max Hymans
75748 PARIS Cedex 15
☎: +33 (0)1 40 47 20 21
✉: c.bussiere@live.fr
cbussiere@mgen.fr

<https://fr.linkedin.com/in/clémence-bussière-38098193>

Research interests:

Health economics, public health, primary healthcare, determinants of health care use, access to care, inequalities, chronic diseases, disability, capabilities.

Current position

2016 - : Post-doctoral fellowship in health economics

MGEN foundation for public health and University of Paris Descartes (research lab: LIRAES)
Project: Modeling the impact of diabetes follow-up care and innovative treatments on health care use in diabetic population.

Professional experience

2012 – 2015: Graduate teaching assistant, microeconomics

Bachelor, 105h (annual), University Paris-Dauphine (France).

2012: Internship – Health economics research

Center for research, medicine, sciences, health, mental health, society (CERMES3), INSERM U988, Villejuif (France).

2010 : Internship – Management control

Sanofi Aventis, pharmaceutical industry, Croissy Beaubourg (France)

Education

2012 – 2016: Doctor of philosophy (PhD) in Public Health – Health economics

University of Paris Sud, medical school, Kremlin-Bicêtre (France)

Thesis title: Primary health care use among people with disabilities - Economic analysis from the Health and disability survey data

Research lab: Centre for research in epidemiology and population health (CESP), team 1 “Health Services Research” (HSR), INSERM U1018, Villejuif (France)

Supervisor: Nathalie Pelletier-Fleury (MD, PhD)

2010 – 2012: Master degree - Research in Health Economics

University of Paris-Dauphine (France) - Obtained with honors

2007 - 2010: Bachelor degree - Economic sciences

University of Paris Est-Créteil (France) - Obtained with honors

Published papers

Bussière, C., Sicsic, J., & Pelletier-Fleury, N. (2016). Simultaneous effect of disabling conditions on primary health care use through a capability approach. Social Science & Medicine, 154, 70-84.

Bussière, C., Le Vaillant, M., & Pelletier-Fleury, N. (2015). Screening for cervical cancer: What are the determinants among adults with disabilities living in institutions? Findings from a National Survey in France. Health Policy, 119(6), 794-801.

Bussière, C., Sicsic, J., & Pelletier-Fleury, N. (2014). The effects of obesity and mobility disability in access to breast and cervical cancer screening in France: results from the National Health and Disability Survey. PloS one, 9(8), e104901.

Naouri, D., Bussière, C., & Pelletier-Fleury, N. (2016). What are the determinants of specialized outpatient and dental care use among adults with disabilities living in institutions? Findings from a National Survey in France. Archives of physical medicine and rehabilitation.

Communication: oral presentations

- 8th European Public Health Conference (EPH) “Health in Europe: from global to local policies, methods and practices”, Milan (Italy), October 2015.
- 36ème Journées des Economistes de la Santé Français (conference of French health economics association), Bordeaux (France), December 2014.
- European Health Economics Association (EuHEA) PhD student-supervisor and early career researcher (ECR) conference, Manchester (England), September 2014. (poster presentation)
- 10th world congress in Health Economics, IHEA and ECHE, Dublin (Ireland), July 2014.
- 35ème Journées des Economistes de la Santé Français (conference of French health economics association), Créteil (France), December 2013.
- 6ème European Public Health (EPH) Conference “Health in Europe: Are we there yet? Learning from the past, building the future”, Brussels (Belgium), November 2013.
- Congres of ADELFF-SFSP (French associations of public health and epidemiology) “Santé Publique et Prévention”, Bordeaux (France), October 2013.
- French ministry of health conference on disability « Handicap et autonomie : la diversité des apports de l’enquête Handicap-Santé », Paris (France), June 2013.
- King’s College Conference “Health Services Research: Evidence-Based practices”, Londres (England), juillet 2014. (poster presentation)

Additional information

Statistical software: Sas, Stata, Mplus, SPAD, EViews.

Languages: French (native), English (complete professional skills).

Associations:

- Member of Collège des Economistes de la Santé (French health economics association)
- Member de l'Association Française de Sciences Economiques (French economic association).